You can also review who can see your information, and the types of update you'll receive." Under "Skip This Step", there is a yellow button labeled "Skip for now" with a red arrow pointing to it from the right. That's it!
Thanks for registering your account.

Please verify your email
We've sent you an email with a link to click to verify that your email address is correct. Please look out for this email as it may take up to five minutes to arrive.
The email will come from alert@neighbourhoodalert.co.uk.
As soon as you verify your email address, you'll start to receive updates from us.

Email not arrived?
If the email hasn't arrived in your inbox, it may be marked as spam. To make sure our messages are always delivered to you, you may need to tell your system that emails from our address are not junk or spam.
If, after five minutes, the email hasn't appeared in your inbox, junk or spam folders, please email support@neighbourhoodalert.co.uk or call us on 0115 9245 517 (office hours only).

Depending on the type of email provider you have used, (gmail, hotmail, live, outlook.com) your registration email may be put, by them, directly into your SPAM or JUNK email box instead of your normal INBOX. If you don't see it in you INBOX within in a minute or two of completing the above, then it is important that you check in your Junk or Spam boxes immediately. The link that is sent to you only lasts for a short while and if it isn't acted upon, the link becomes invalid and after a few days, so does your registration.
